Village Buys 37 Acres for Playground

Gift of $1,000 Toward Purchase Price of $3,000 Is Announced

Hard upon the heels of news that the Antioch village board had decided in a special session Monday afternoon to purchase 37 1/2 acres of the Thorne estate east of the Soo Line railroad for a park and playground area came the announcement by Village President George B. Bartlett Wednesday afternoon that the sum of $1,000 toward the purchase price of $3,000 has been donated by persons interested in the welfare of the community.

The village had already accumulated about half of the necessary amount in a fund especially set aside for such purposes, and was prepared to borrow the other half from the general fund or the water department fund. The gift, however, makes it necessary to borrow only a small part of the money.

The $3,000 represents a cash price, including clear title, President Bartlett states, and transfer of the property can take place as soon as it is possible to verify the acreage by surveys and to have the papers drawn up by Village Attorney George S. McGaughey.

Adjoins H. S. Land

The land extends from the 10 acres owned by Antioch Township High school northward along the Soo tracks.

Access is available through Ida avenue, which will probably be extended by means of a grade crossing, and there is also a possibility that the Park avenue thoroughfare may at some time be extended, according to plans discussed at the special meeting.

While it was planned to purchase the tract primarily for park and recreation purposes, there may also be other uses, according to Bartlett.

There is a gravel pit on the property, and some of the gravel might be used by the village.

The possibilities that a highway or supplementary street to take some of the heavier "through" traffic off Main street might at some time be put through this tract, and that a landing field for small planes might be established there are also among those discussed by the village council in its special session, before voting on purchase.

Heart Attacks, Drowning Bring Calls for Squad

Rescue Truck Summoned to Indian Point Tuesday; Two Calls Sunday

Heart trouble, from which he had suffered for several years, was blamed for the death of William A. Witt, 75, of Indian Point, Tuesday.

The body was discovered at his cottage Tuesday afternoon by two Chicagoans, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Carr, who had come to the place to make arrangements for renting a cottage.

After waiting for him for two hours, they made inquiries of neighbors, and an investigation led to the discovery of his body lying on the floor in his home.

The Antioch rescue squad was called and a physician was summoned, but he had apparently been dead since some time in the morning, which was when he had last been seen by neighbors.

The body was brought to the Strang funeral home in Antioch, and from there removed to Chicago Tuesday evening for services and burial.

Mr. Witt had maintained a cottage at the lake for 32 years.

He was at one time engaged in the manufacture of golf balls, but had turned his business interests over to a son about two years ago and since his retirement had made his home at Indian Point throughout the entire year.

Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock, the rescue squad was called on another heart case, when Gilbert Haisma, Sr., Tiffany road, suffered an attack.

He was administered oxygen by means of apparatus maintained by the squad, and was transferred to St. Therese hospital in Waukegan. He is reported to be doing well, although he is still receiving the oxygen treatment.

Soldier, 19, Drowns

The death by drowning of Pvt. Kenneth T. Fries, 19, on the east shore of Loon lake, brought a second call to the squad, Sunday morning at 11:37 o'clock.

Fries had dived into the water from a raft and never came to the surface. His body was recovered by the rescue squad 40 minutes later with grapnel hooks, and efforts were made to resuscitate him.

Fries, whose home was at 214 S. Fourth street, Maywood, had come to the lake in company with two friends. He was supposed to have been a good swimmer, and it was believed that he had suffered a cramp.

His death was the second tragedy that had befallen his family within a week, for he had come to Maywood on leave from Camp Campbell, Ky., to attend funeral services for his father, Henry Fries, who was killed last week in a railway accident.

THE UNTIDY HOUSEKEEPER

News of the Boys in Service

Howard Lee Hagemann, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fred Hagemann of Trevor, Wis., was formally started on his way as an aviation cadet in the Army Air forces last week when he was sworn into the service, according to the Chicago Army Aviation Cadet board. Hagemann, who is 17, will not commence his training until after his eighteenth birthday.

Young Hagemann graduated from Antioch High school. His brother, Lt. Walter George Hagemann, is in service and his father served in the last war.

To qualify for this training, which leads to a commission as second lieutenant or appointment as flight officer, Hagemann passed three examinations with flying colors—a written mental test, an interview as to moral qualifications by a board of officers, and a searching physical examination at the hands of a flight surgeon.

Hundreds of young men are daily taking these tests at the Aviation Examining board at 166 West VanBuren street, Chicago. No definite amount of formal schooling is required, beyond the ability to pass the mental examination. Age limits are 17 to 26 inclusive.

Qualified men undergo about 13 months of intensive training, before winning their Silver Wings as a pilot, bombardier, or navigator.

WINSOR A. DALGAARD

Aviation Cadet Winsor A. Dalgaard, who has completed his pre-flight schooling at Iowa City, Ia., with high marks, is being transferred to Ottumwa, Ia., for advanced flying training. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Dalgaard of Antioch.

Kenneth Mortensen, Kenosha, was inducted into the U. S. Army at Milwaukee Saturday. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Mortensen, Antioch.

Pvt. Henry Lubkeman wrote home to his parents recently that he has "seen some excitement" in his service "somewhere in the southwest Pacific," but that he still thinks "it's a lot of fun."

At least one young man in the service is looking to the future.

Joseph James Prucha, storekeeper third class, writes from somewhere at sea—

"I just got through reading three editions of the Antioch News. . . . I took special interest in 'Bud' Kucera's letter because we used to work together at Sherwood Park. If you will look back in the April 22 edition of the News and read his letter . . . well, anyway, I have had the

Save Four In Navy Plane Crash on Fox Lake Wednesday

Overtures While Practicing Landings; Salvage Operations Underway

Arrangements were being made today by the U. S. Navy to send a salvage crew from Glenview airport to recover the seaplane which sank in Fox Lake about midway between Indian Point and O. W. Lehmann's Willow Point yesterday afternoon at 5:15 o'clock while practicing landings on the water.

Witnesses to the accident sped to the scene in motor boats and picked up the four navy men who were occupants of the plane, and who had clambered out on the wings of the plane after it overturned on striking the water.

A telephone call to the Lake County sheriff's office for aid was put in by the members of the Lehmann household staff when Reis Jermyne, houseman, first noticed that the plane was in difficulty, but was cancelled when it was observed that the men were all being removed to safety.

Names Not Revealed
The plane landed a little over a quarter of a mile out from Lehmann's and about three-fourths of a mile from Indian Point. A large sandbar extends out into the lake beneath the water at that place, and it is believed that the plane can be salvaged without too much difficulty.

Louis Pregreger of Grass Lake assisted Navy men in a preliminary inspection of the plane early this afternoon. Present plans are to start the work of recovering it tomorrow morning. Dredging equipment may possibly be used.

The navy is withholding the names of the members of the crew.

A resolution in behalf of disabled veterans of the present war was drawn up and adopted, and will be presented at the Illinois state convention to be held in Chicago Aug. 27-30. The Tenth district will march in the second division in the parade Aug. 29 at the convention.

Clarence Boyd and Arthur Fuller will represent the Tenth district at the national convention in Omaha, Neb. Sept. 21-27, as in-coming and retiring commanders of the district.

Recently elected officers of the district will be installed at a meeting to be held by the Tenth district on Friday evening, Sept. 17, in Libertyville. Post No. 732 of Libertyville will be host.

The fire was smothered, and was extinguished without difficulty.

Rescue Squad Dance Is Successful Affair

More Than 1,000 Enjoy Annual Dance at Channel Lake Pavilion

Channel Lake pavilion was packed by the crowd of more than 1,000 persons who enjoyed the dancing, entertainment and goodfellowship at the Antioch Rescue squad's annual benefit party Wednesday evening.

Dancing was enjoyed from 9 o'clock to 1, to the music of Scotty's orchestra of Waukegan.

Sandwiches and other refreshments were served during the evening.

Members of the squad were present in uniform and the rescue truck was on display just outside the entrance, ready for instant use should a call come in during the course of the evening.

The entire membership of the squad acted as a general committee for the affair, and wives of squad workers assisted, taking over the preparation of the sandwiches.

Proceeds of the party are to be used for operating and maintenance expenses of the squad, which has extended its services in the past not only to the Antioch community, but to others where there was need.

Members of the squad expressed themselves as being highly pleased over the response on the part of the public.

Library Receipts for Year total $3,335, Statement Shows

Antioch Township library's expenditures are being held well within its budget, according to the annual financial statement, issued this week by Dr. R. D. Williams, treasurer, and published elsewhere in this issue of the Antioch News. Receipts for the year were $3,335.83, the statement shows. Expenditures totaled $3,060.53.

While the main source of revenue was the tax levy, $2,905.73, the library itself produced some of its own funds. These included $114.00 from the collections on rental books, $13.55 in gifts, and $57.37 paid in for fines and damages and for lost books. In addition, the library had an unexpended balance of $245.18 which was carried over from the previous year.

Danger at Home

Accusing a person of complacency toward the war is tantamount to an insult. Everyone likes to think he is doing his part to achieve victory and doesn't like to be told otherwise. There is no such explosive reaction, however, when complacency is charged with respect to domestic issues. Many people believe domestic issues are something for politicians and theorists of doubtful ideals, to settle among themselves. If they persist in that belief, the republic, and individual liberty will eventually be destroyed as completely as if the nation had been overrun by the mechanized hordes of the dictators.

A revolution is impending in this country. It may be a bloodless revolution, but nonetheless a revolution—a revolution about which no freedom-loving American can be complacent. At the present moment, the country is existing in a vacuum. Irrespective of our apparent unanimous pride in the achievements of private industry in producing for war, the stage is being set for the substitution of government-owned industry on a large scale for privately-owned and operated industry. This is revolution. It is revolution because it will change our form of government.

No government can govern and employ the people it governs, and still remain democratic. So far, the people do not seem to realize this. If they did, they would not sit back and complacently allow the electric power industry to be slowly socialized. They would be fearful of labor legislation which promotes government ownership, as in the case of coal mines; they would be alarmed over the fact that a large percentage of industry is already owned outright by government as a result of the war emergency; they would be indignant that agencies of government, supported by the taxes they pay, are "planning" the deliberate destruction of the American system of free enterprise, by permanently socializing the natural resource and transportation industries.

The same kind of complacency which very nearly led to military disaster, is now dulling our sensibilities to dangers at home. The depth of the danger can be measured in the words of Fulton Lewis, Jr., nationally known radio commentator: "... To me it is shocking and frightening in the extreme that those in Washington who conceived the Four Freedoms didn't have sufficient acquaintanceship with real Americanism to have included in their list the most important and the most vital freedom of all. ... Freedom of Individual Enterprise."

Statistics Don't Tell All

It is irritating to farmers to be informed by statistics that agriculture is making a financial killing out of the war. If the statisticians would leave the city long enough to take a look at the way a farmer must try to operate under present conditions, they would go back and toss their statistics out of the window.

For example, a lot of ballyhoo has been published about the "flood" of men going back to the farms. One dairy farm was recently subjected to the flood—at seventy-five cents an hour per man. Two men, one a civil engineer professing to help the farmer in a pinch during harvest time, the other an ex-stevord looking for easy money, went into the field to load hay. At the day's end they had arrived at the barn with one load. Two other loads had been dumped by the wayside, one through the front door of a grocery store. They were paid off. Net result: Twelve dollars in labor costs for a couple of tons of hay.

This is merely a sample. But it shows why the country is going to go hungry if the pencil pushers that make the rules don't quit writing fairy tales.

Mark Twain once remarked—"If it wasn't such a mean thing to say about anybody, I'd say 'He means well.'"

It isn't the bad things people do on purpose that do the most harm, it seems, but the things they do with good intentions.

For instance, some of those "surplus" pigs and things of a few years back would come in mighty, mighty handy right now.

The hopeful thing is—maybe we'll learn by our mistakes of the past and do better in the future. It is up to us.

HIGHWAY TO VICTORY

The ALASKA HIGHWAY is one of the greatest engineering achievements of all time. Its quick construction is an outstanding tribute to the aggressiveness of an America at war.

Now that it can be told, THE SOO LINE is proud to have been a highly important factor in this job well done. Solid train loads of men and materials were rushed to Dawson Creek.

Providing, with our Canadian connections, a direct route between Chicago and Dawson Creek, it was inevitable that THE SOO LINE should be called upon to get the men and the equipment through in the shortest possible time.

We did. And we are continuing to do so. Daily merchandise cars now operate through from Chicago—St. Paul—Minneapolis to Edmonton, the new gateway to Alaska, via

Green Grass Good Food

Bluegrass pastures will provide more forage during the pasture year if they are not grazed until the grass is four or five inches tall. Then, the grass should be harvested by livestock as fast as it grows. Tall, dry grass is not as good feed as it was when green and succulent.

HEALTH HINTS for LIVESTOCKPARASITES SABOTAGE LIVESTOCK PROFITS

American farmers lost $125,000,000 in profits last year, due to livestock parasites. That is the figure recently announced by government veterinary authorities.

Cattle grubs alone ruin enough hides to put shoes on an army of nine million men. Noxious nodular worms of sheep ruin millions of yards of gut casings intended for manufacture of surgical sutures. Mange mites, ticks, lice and other creeping pests combine with this army of other types of parasitic pests to curb profitable gains, carry disease germs and otherwise sabotage millions of farm animals and birds.

Due to widespread movements of feeder and breeding animals, many types of costly parasites are constantly appearing in new areas. Southern screw worms are now causing losses among midwestern calves, colts, and other young livestock as a single example.

To assist in this year's wartime battle against losses caused by animal parasite pests, the priority boards of our government have made available liberal supplies of insecticides and worm removers. However, the first thing is to know just how, when and where to use such agents to best advantage. That is why local veterinarians have been actively enrolled in these campaigns in so many communities, and are taking an active part in planning community-wide parasite eradication projects. These community efforts are sound animal husbandry and pay real dividends.

If a flock or herd fails to gain weight, shed the hair properly, or gradually grows thinner or shows other chronic symptoms, it is very likely that one or more types of internal parasites are responsible. Post-mortem examination of a typically-affected animal is often necessary before one can definitely identify the trouble and select the right drugs for elimination of the pests from the rest of the herd.

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Free the Seas

Before we win the final battle with Hitler's Nazis all navy men are agreed we must win the battle of the Atlantic; that is to free the sea lanes of the German U-boats.

A year ago we were building 54 cruisers and nearly 200 destroyers or just about enough for a two ocean navy.

Now we have come to realize that this war is to the finish, "winner take all," and our Government is building a five ocean navy.

That is why we are being asked to increase our subscriptions for War Bonds. That is why we must do it.

With the Army Air Force schedules calling for a 300% increase in production of these powerful bomber engines in 1943, this Northern Illinois war plant is relying on a constant and abundant supply of Electric Power to achieve this goal.

Turning out Bomber Engines on a volume scale

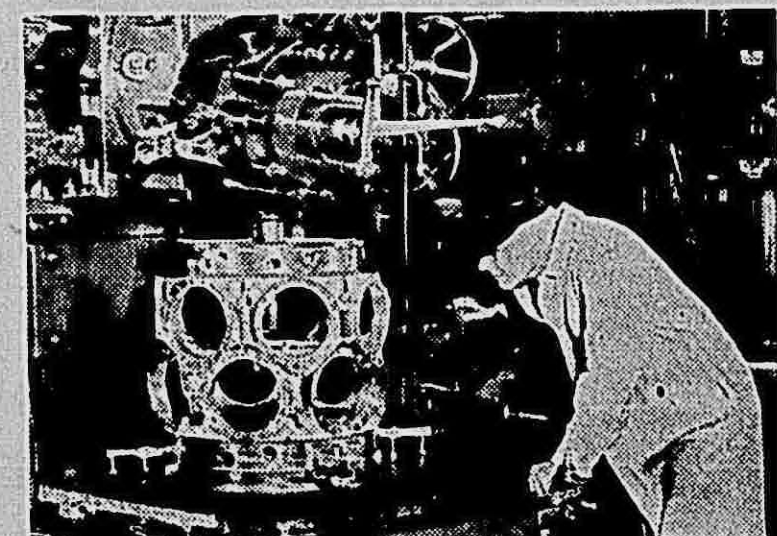

Here in Northern Illinois the manufacturer of these huge 14-cylinder, radial bomber engines has long ago surpassed original schedules of production. That record and today's accelerated volume output are a credit to efficient management and technical skill... backed by the dynamic energy of Electric Power.

This mighty force of mass production keeps thousands of machines working. It drives the lathes and drills... runs the grinding and stamping machines... propels the huge cranes and conveyors.

Supplying Electric Power for the production of bomber engines, and all other war equipment turned out in this area, is our wartime assignment.

Electric Power Speeds War Production

A view of an engine in a test cell and a few of the many instruments and meters used to measure the engine performance. Adequate power from our lines makes possible economical recovery of electrical energy from operating engines during these test runs to meet part of the power requirements in this plant.

In this great aircraft engine plant, Electric Power has cut the time required to prepare an engine for testing from more than 4 hours to only 20 minutes.

Drom, and her sister, Miss Edna Drom, and other relatives.
Her acre-and-a-half Victory garden has been occupying a great deal of her time. On Monday she and another sister, Mrs. Harold Ellis (Mary Drom) canned 16 quarts of beans, 16 quarts of tomatoes, 8 quarts of "greens" and 6 of pickles.

Mr. and Mrs. August T. Drom and son Arlyn, New Lisbon, Wis., arrived Monday evening for a week's visit here. Mr. and Mrs. Drom are staying with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Horton, and Arlyn is visiting at the Nelson Droms.

Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Drom and daughter, Mary Lou, arrived Wednesday from Lake Delton, Wis., for a several days' visit. "Jake" has been employed in the Badger Ordnance plant at Merrimac, Wis., for several months.

After Russel finished his training at Wright, the navy sent him to Ohio Wesleyan university, located at Delaware, O., where he is majoring in chemical engineering. Russel has spent his summer for the past 12 years at the Carlsen cottage at Lake Marie. His brother, Haldor, Jr., is a third class petty officer at Glenview airfield.

Candlelight Nuptials
Unite Anne Nelson,
Lieut. Jack Rhoades

Miss Anne Nelson, daughter of Mrs. Anne Nelson of Lake Villa, and Lt. Jack Rhoades, U. S. Army, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Rhoades, were united in marriage at the Lake Villa Community church Sunday in a 5 o'clock candlelight ceremony. The Rev. John DeVries, pastor, read the service before a group of relatives and intimate friends of the couple.

The church was decorated with baskets of salmon and white gladioli and roses.

Hans von Holwede of Antioch played traditional wedding music at the organ.
The bride's gown was of ivory satin, with a sweeping train and long sleeves, and a lace yoke trimmed with seed pearls. Her finger tip-length veil was caught with clusters of orange blossoms and she carried an arm bouquet of white roses. A friend of the family, Henry Cable, presented her in marriage.

Miss Ethel Nelson was her sister's maid of honor, and Mrs. John Nelson and Mrs. Kaurin Karolius, the latter a sister of the bridegroom, were her other attendants. All wore identical frocks of ice-blue satin, with bluish veils, and carried colonial style bouquets of roses and baby's breath.
Attending the bridegroom as best man was Russell Nickerson. William Rhoades, brother of the bridegroom, and Kaurin Karolius were groomsmen. Ushers were Elmer Sheehan and Marvin Walker.

A wedding dinner for 30 was served at the Roundup restaurant at Antioch. The party later went to the Aragon ballroom in Chicago, where the band leader, Eddie Howard, dedicated a number to Lt. Rhoades and his bride.

The former Miss Nelson is a graduate of Antioch Township High school. She has been employed at the Johns-Manville plant in Waukegan as a secretary. The bridegroom, who was graduated from the high school at Minong, Wis., is stationed at Fort Banks, Mass.

After a week's honeymoon, Lt. Rhoades will rejoin his company and his bride will resume her work in Waukegan.

The bride's grandmother, Mrs. John Harrington of Minneapolis, was among those who attended the wedding from out-of-town. The bridegroom's aunt and cousin, Mrs. Jessie Work and daughter Elizabeth, attended from Chicago.

Start Mailing of Overseas Gifts by
Sept. 15, WarningPackages Should Be Marked
"Christmas Parcel," Says
Postmaster

Mailing of gifts for Army and Navy personnel overseas must begin by Sept. 15, if many of the men and women in our armed services are not to be disappointed, Postmaster Roy L. Kufalk warns.

Christmas gifts may be mailed by parcel post to Army men and women overseas only between September 15 and October 15, Kufalk explains. After the later date, he emphasizes, such parcels may not be mailed unless a written request from the soldier for the article is presented with each parcel. No soldier should have to ask for a Christmas gift; so gifts must be mailed on time. The Navy also urges that gifts be mailed between September 15 and October 15.

Reasons for early mailing dates are: the vast distances that the parcels must travel to reach men at war fronts and stations the world over; frequent transfers of thousands of men from one location to another, which means forwarding of the mail and consumes additional time; the necessity for giving preference to reinforcements, arms, munitions, medicine and food in allotment of shipping space, which often means that the shipments of gifts must wait. It is most urgent, Army and Navy authorities point out, that gifts be delivered to the men IN TIME FOR CHRISTMAS, to keep their spirits high.

It is especially important, also, that gifts be marked "CHRISTMAS PARCEL," so that they may be given special attention to assure their arrival before Dec. 25, the postmaster emphasizes.

The parcel must not exceed five pounds in weight and must not be more than 15 inches in length or 36 inches in length and girth combined. Not more than one parcel may be mailed in any one week to the same member of the armed forces by or in behalf of the same mailer.

The parcel must be well and strongly packed, in a container of metal, wood, strong fiber board or similar material, then wrapped in strong paper and tied with twine. The cover should be such that it can be opened readily for censorship. The contents should be packed tightly.

Things that cannot be shipped include perishable fruits that may spoil, inflammable materials such as matches or lighter fluids, poisons, and anything that may damage other mail. Gifts enclosed in glass should be substantially packed to avoid breakage. Sharp instruments must have their edges and points completely protected. Addresses must be written clearly and completely, and return address of sender shown.

Lions See Movies of Canadian Fishing Trip

Decorations symbolic of the Lions organization and "Welcome" signs made festive the dining room of Charles A. Anderson's place, at Petite lake for the roast beef supper the Antioch Lions club enjoyed there Monday evening.

Motion pictures taken in Northern Minnesota and Canada by H. B. Gaston, and others taken on a fishing trip made there by Howard K. Gaston, Walter Valters, Chicago, and a party of friends were shown. The glimpses of scenic beauty and the views of big fish captured on the trips were much admired.

Harry Hall, Waukegan attorney, was to have been a speaker, but was unable to attend.

Rabbits Grow Fast

It takes approximately eight to ten weeks from birth to produce a 3½ to 4 pound rabbit. These fryling size rabbits will dress out about 55 per cent table meat.

Agricultural note—William J. Meyer of Grass lake has raised 27 tomatoes, weighing from three-quarters of a pound to one and one-fourth pound each, on a single plant of the "Oxheart" variety, our scouts inform us.

Fred Dittmer of Evanston, who has a cottage at Grass lake, caught an eight-pound catfish in one of the channels there Sunday evening. . . . Those who know say that catfish steaks ain't bad eatin', neither.

Miss Laura Hatch, who for several years made the raising of toy fox terriers her hobby, now finds herself with something of a business on her hands as well, with steadily increasing requests for some of her prize winning dogs coming in from all over the country.

On Wednesday she sent three toy fox terriers to Alexandria, La., and last week she dispatched three miniature Pinschers and a toy fox terrier to the same purchaser.

Recently she sent toy terriers to Bridgehampton, Long Island, to Montgomery, Ala., and to Massachusetts. She had also made shipments to dog fanciers in the western states during past months.

Her dogs have won a number of ribbons at shows in previous years. She has not as yet decided whether she will exhibit some of them this fall or not.

A. L. Schenk, Bluff lake, has been coming out to Antioch since 1909, when he used to stay at the Herman hotel, so it is no wonder that his perseverance as a fisherman was rewarded last Wednesday with:

- (a) One bass, weight one pound, eight ounces.
- (b) Another, one pound, 12 oz.
- (c) Another, weight three pounds, six ounces.
- (d) AND ANOTHER, weight three pounds, eight ounces.

These were all caught by fly fishing, he says.

A former resident of Oak Park, Schenk has, since his retirement, made his home in the old LaParr house, on the east side of Bluff lake, which he purchased for a year-around residence.

Snappy Catch
Winchester Bay, Ore. (AP)—Oregonians don't need ammunition.

Douglas Dailey discovered a cougar in his apple tree, calmly ensnared it in a fish net, then dumped the critter into a cage.

Two women a week earlier encountered a cougar on a road. They dragged it home—in their fish net.

Fort Devens, Mass. (AP)—It will take more than army discipline to change a woman's ideas about her pocketbook.

An inquisitive male picked up a utility bag, the brown leather one a WAC slings from her shoulder, at the Fourth WAAC training center and looked at the contents.

Among the things in it were: A can opener, a green cucumber with a little salt, an Indian head penny for luck, an extra pair of stockings, a toothbrush, the regular assortment of cosmetics and facial tissues, cigarettes, matches, a broken garter, a driver's license, flashlight, keys, a crumpled snapshot, a letter from home—

Take another breath—a large safety pin, waterproof cover for the hat, needle and thread, washrag and piece of soap, Aspirin, a laundry claim check, an address book, stamps, fountain pen, pencil, nail-file, theatre stubs, railway timetable, a candy bar and the remains of a home-made cookie.

Los Angeles (AP)—What do airlines passengers leave behind most frequently?

Dorothy Roberts, lost-and-found clerk for American airlines, lists these: single shoes, briefcases, umbrellas, rubbers (in pairs), overcoats.

Other items recently forgotten: An upper plate, an X-ray photograph, three aces and two kings from a deck of cards—and a book on how to improve the memory.

Past Presidents
Honored at Legion
Auxiliary Supper

Decorated in pastel colors, with corsages of sweet peas for each guest of honor, a special table for the 13 past presidents was a feature at the pot luck supper held by the Antioch American Legion auxiliary on its "Past Presidents' Night," observed Friday evening in the home of Mrs. Anne Heath, 308 Park avenue. Candles and place cards were in shades to harmonize with the corsages.

Colored motion pictures taken on a recent trip through the Atlantic seaboard states were shown by the Rev. Joseph Savage. Father Savage also related interesting incidents of his journey.

Winners in a guessing game on "kinds of cloth" were Mmes. Elsie Hays, Betty Mortensen, and Alma Harden, and Miss Elizabeth Webb.

WESLEY CIRCLE TO MEET WED., SEPT. 1
Mrs. Sam Ries' home, 267 Park avenue, will be the setting for a meeting of Wesley Circle on Wednesday afternoon, Sept. 1, at 2 o'clock.

Mrs. F. Dore, Pittsburgh, Pa., has been visiting Mrs. J. E. Grimes at Lake Villa.

same thing happen to me, not so long ago, so I know just what he means. "To get to the brighter side of things, whether you know it or not, I was home for a ten-day leave. I stayed at Sherwood Park for about seven of the ten days, and went to my buddy's for two days. He was staying at Mr. and Mrs. Wells' farm at Lake Villa, and boy, did I work! I got my hands all blistered up. I was helping him bring in the hay, which I enjoyed very much, and I don't mind saying that when this war is over (this is putting in my bid for a job), I want to get a job on a farm—which is where I always did like to work! Of course, I won't get out until April 2, 1945, (just in time for planting), but that doesn't mean that the war won't be over before then. But as I say, there is my bid."

Word of Lt. Graham T. "Bud" Grimes of Lake Villa is reported by Frank Smith, Chicago Times correspondent, writing from an advanced base "somewhere in New Guinea."

Smith comments on the fact that Lt. Grimes, who is 31, was a roommate at Northwestern Military academy, once upon a time, of Art Wermuth, famous "one man army" of the Philippines. "Bud" is the son of Capt. "Ned" Grimes, veteran of the First World War. A sister, Miss Betty Grimes, corporal in the WAAC, is at present stationed in San Francisco.

Sorensen comments in a penned addition to the release—"The training that I've received here will prove invaluable in both army and civilian life. There will be a great future in post-war aviation, and I intend to be in on the ground floor."

He distributed posters for display in a number of business places, calling attention to the Navy's present drive to enlist Waves, Sea Bees, and boys of 17 who are eligible for the draft.

YOUNGSTERS—HELP WITH HOME-CANNING!

Don't worry if you're too young for the WAACS or WAVES. There's another important job for you. Save all the extra vegetables from your Victory Garden by home-canning. A few jars a day take little time and add up to well-filled shelves by the end of the season. Food costs are high in the stores and may be higher, but food grown at home still costs a few cents a jar.

There's a deep satisfaction in growing and canning your own food. Wait and see. You'll take inventory of your garden each day to see which vegetables are right for the table and how many extras there are to put in glass jars. Make it a point each day to gather everything at its prime, and make it a point of honor to get the extras into glass jars before they lose freshness.

That's the big secret of delicious, nutritious, home-canned foods—freshness. Home-grown, home-canned foods often have many more vitamins than those bought at the store, because they are fresh. And when you get a reliable home-canning booklet, you'll be surprised at how many different things may be put away for later use in glass jars.

Be sure to have the very best canning instructions and recipes. One fruit jar company offers a Blue Book free with a coupon packed with each dozen jars—or for ten cents if you have no coupon. The instructions are easy to follow. It is not necessary to have elaborate or expensive equipment. Form a canning club and have fun while you can!

CAN PEAS AND BEANS, TOO!

Peas . . . Some like them hot, some like them cold, but nearly everybody likes them canned, or so claims Gladys Kimbrough, Home Service Director of Ball Brothers Company. Not everybody likes green or "English" peas and that's all right because there are plenty other peas of different color and flavor.

All kinds of peas, lima beans, and butter beans are canned the same way. All should be picked and canned the very day the pods are full enough to be shelled. At that time they will be from small to medium size, tender and sweet.

Peas and beans begin to lose flavor and food value as soon as pulled from the vine and are likely to spoil if time is wasted between gathering, preparing, and canning.

Flat sour and all other spoilage can be avoided by paying strict attention to canning rules. Yes, Rules, they are as simple as this:

1. Check over jars and lids the day before the canning is done. If glass top seals or two-piece metal vacuum seals are to be used, examine the top edges of the jars—the slightest flaw may cause you to have to do work over. The same is true of the sealing surface of glass lids. If there is any doubt as to the tension of the wires on "lightning" jars, fill them with hot water, seal, let stand until cold, then hold upside down and examine for leaks, and don't forget to wash jars, caps and rubbers clean.

2. Use young, tender, freshly gathered vegetables—and they won't be fresh after being out of the garden all night.

3. Prepare no more than your canner will hold and not that many if the canner is large and the help small.

4. Wash the pods clean before shelling. Sorry, but dirt is the chief cause of spoilage, so rinse the peas or beans in clean, cool water after they are shelled.

5. Cover with hot water and cook from 3 to 10 minutes, depending upon size; then pour into the jars while boiling hot—this won't break jars that have been covered with lukewarm water, heated to boiling and kept hot until needed.

6. Leave about an inch space at the top when filling the jar: add ½ teaspoon salt to each pint. Pint jars are best for peas and shelled beans because the heat reaches the center of the pack more quickly but whether pints or quarts are used, be sure to have enough water to insure quick heating all the way to the center of the jar. Seal or partly seal jars, depending upon type used; then put into the canner as quickly as possible and process the correct length of time. Young, tender, green peas take 50 minutes; black-eyed and field peas, limas and butter beans are processed 60 minutes at 10 pounds pressure. If no pressure cooker is available, process (boil) 3½ hours in hot-water bath canner. Use the same time for pint and quart jars. Nothing larger than a quart is safe for canning non-acid vegetables.

The bacteria that cause spoilage in peas and beans thrive in the temperature that makes you say "Wow, ain't it hot in here!" The quicker you make it too hot for bacteria, the better. So, don't piddle around when canning vegetables or anything else for that matter. If you have no pressure cooker, use a water-bath canner (never an oven or a steamer for vegetables). And remember to boil beans and peas 15 minutes before tasting them—even if a pressure cooker is used—for about once in a million or so times, a toxin forms in non-acid foods. Such toxin can be destroyed by boiling. Failure to take this precaution has been known to cause serious illness. Reboil non-acid vegetables left over from one meal to another.

To use a water bath right: Have the water steaming hot and deep enough to cover the tops of the jars two or more inches when they are put into the canner. Get the water boiling as quickly as possible and keep it boiling steadily every minute of the time called for in the recipe. Take the jars out of the canner as soon as they have processed long enough; complete the seal on all jars that require it (all except two-piece vacuum seals should be partly sealed before and completely sealed after processing—the vacuum seals are sealed before only); stand the jars far apart on a cloth or folded newspaper to cool. Make sure every jar is sealed when put away for winter and, believe it or not, there will come a day when you will say "I didn't dream it possible that canned peas could taste so much like garden fresh ones."

Coffee Ice Cream Makes Welcome Dessert

WHEN it seems too hot to cook and you are wondering what to serve the family for dessert, here is your answer . . . Refrigerator Coffee Ice Cream. There is nothing quite so welcome as a cold dessert after a hot and tiring day. Now that you no longer have to worry about where your next pound of coffee is coming from, you can indulge the family's craving for coffee flavor by treating them to this delicious ice cream. Serve it with tall glasses of refreshing iced coffee and you have a pair of thirst-quenchers that can't be beat. Don't forget to make your coffee extra strong for iced coffee, however, or you will lose some of the flavor and enjoyment that full-bodied coffee contributes to any meal.

No cooking is necessary when you make this mouth-watering Refrigerator Coffee Ice Cream. It's easy to make and delicious to eat.

When served with iced coffee you have a dessert that will win the approval of the whole family. A warm, sultry day is just the time to surprise them with an unbeatable combination such as this. Here is the way to make the Coffee Ice Cream.

Refrigerator Coffee Ice Cream
1½ teaspoons unflavored gelatin 1 cup strong cold coffee ¼ teaspoon salt 1 cup cream ½ cup sweetened condensed milk
Soften gelatin in ¼ cup cold coffee and stir over hot water until dissolved. Add salt and cream and place in refrigerator until mixture sets. Whip until smooth, and slightly thickened. Stir in condensed milk and remaining coffee and beat well. Place into refrigerator tray and freeze. When partially frozen, remove from tray, beat thoroughly, and return to tray. Continue freezing several hours until firm. Yield: about 1½ pints.

Maximum Milk Output

The ten steps described as essential to maximum milk production are: 1. Keep better cows; 2. Condition dry cows; 3. Care at calving time; 4. Give cows enough water; 5. Feed sufficient roughage; 6. Feed balanced grain ration; 7. Feed salt, minerals, vitamins; 8. Keep cows quiet and comfortable; 9. Milk regularly and rapidly; 10. Prevent disease and injury losses.

Poor Hay

Delayed harvest results in poor quality hay, which is low in protein, high in fiber, and lacking in palatability. The delay also reduces seed growth and causes lower seed yields in medium red clover.

Potato Source of Energy

An excellent source of energy, the potato is also one of the cheapest sources of iron and an economic source of calcium, phosphorus, B vitamins and C, according to D. Leichsenring.

Private Utilities

Eighty-eight per cent of the urban areas in the country over 25,000 are served only by a privately owned utility, 8 per cent exclusively by a publicly owned utility, and 4 per cent by both.

Still Potatoes
Don't fear that the wheat loaf will soar out of reach; but if it should, there are potatoes.

NEWS ANALYSIS

American Bombers Hit Axis War Plants Allied Chiefs Ponder Italy's Fate; Reds Push Nazis Back on Two Fronts; Trap Jap Forces in Central Solomons

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)
Released by Western Newspaper Union.

Sicily's fall came only after stiff fighting such as this, in which British Tommies from the Eighth army advanced through a railroad siding under heavy fire.

SICILY:

Happy Ending

Thirty-eight days after the first Allied troops set foot on Sicily's south-eastern shore, the island fell, with 140,000 Axis prisoners reported captured. As Gen. George S. Patton's Doughboys from the Seventh American army swept into Messina to take over the enemy's last stronghold, the Italian mainland loomed two miles away.

The fall of Sicily was preceded by the Axis' evacuation of the island behind the rugged action of their rearwards, fighting fiercely from natural defenses in the mountainous terrain. According to Berlin, about 35,000 German troops with all of heavy equipment were hauled to the Italian mainland on small vessels.

The Sicilian campaign was marked by bitter action. In the early landings, American troops withstood strong German counterattacks to establish a beachhead at Gela; Gen. Bernard Montgomery's British columns encountered stiff opposition before Catania, where the Axis machine gunners could hide to advantage in the grain fields; and finally, German units planted in the mountains slowed Allied advances to a steady crawl up the open, craggy slopes before Messina.

Discuss Open City

As President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill came together for their sixth conference in the historic citadel of Quebec, Marshal Pietro Badoglio's Italian military government pressed efforts for the recognition of Rome as an open city. Acting as intermediary, the Vatican was reported to have presented Badoglio's proposals for such recognition to Allied representatives.

Before recognizing Rome as an open city, the Allies insisted that the metropolis be stripped of all military activity. In their bombings of Rome, the Allies concentrated on the San Lorenzo railroad yards.

As Roosevelt and Churchill discussed Italy's fate, British and American bombers loosed a rain of explosives on the Italian industrial centers of Milan and Turin. Waves of four-engined bombers blasted at the famous Caproni aircraft works, chemical plants and the royal arsenal.

RUSSIA:

Nazis Fall Back

Hitler's armies fell back along the central and southern Russian fronts as the Red's masses of tanks and troops ground forward in bitter action. The Germans put up stiff resistance, slowing the Russians' advance with local counterattacks, and making them pay for every yard gained.

But the sheer weight of the Red's drive told in the eventual German retreats. In the central sector, the Russians bore down on the important Nazi base of Bryansk, as they moved westward from recently fallen Orel. Farther to the south, Kharkov lay encircled from three sides, and Soviet troops stood at the gates of the once great Pittsburgh of Russia, now a blackened ruin.

OPA:

Changes Made

As a result of Office of Price Administration policies, the cost of living dropped fractionally during the last two months and should register a further decline in August, Chester Bowles, new OPA general manager, declared. Aim of the government is to bring prices to the September, 1942, levels, and keep them in line with the stabilization of wages at 15 per cent over the early 1941 figures.

SOUTH PACIFIC:

Slip on Noose

By occupying Vella Lavella island American troops slipped a tight noose around remaining Japanese forces in the central Solomons. Vella Lavella lies to the north of Kolombangara island, where 8,000 Nipponese stood entrenched. To the south of Kolombangara is New Georgia island, which U. S. doughboys dominated.

As General MacArthur's offensive developed, with the central Solomons in the Americans' grip, the Japanese were left with outposts only in the northeastern area of the islands.

As MacArthur's Solomons' forces wound up for the knockout punch, waves of Allied bombers staged a surprise attack on the Japanese airbase at Weewak, New Guinea, destroying 120 planes and killing 1,500 personnel. Caught unawares, Jap planes were packed solidly on the field when the Allied airmen flew over, proving easy targets. The enemy craft represented reinforcements that had been sent to bolster Jap ground troops at Salamaua to the south, where Allied units had pressed within 15 miles of the big base.

WAGES:

Go Up

Average pay of workers in all manufacturing industries was 95.9 cents an hour in June, the department of labor figures disclose. This is 13 per cent higher than in June, 1942. Weekly earnings averaged $43.35 in June, compared with $43.22 for May. In durable goods factories (makers of tractors, furniture, planes, etc.) the average was $49.37, and in non-durable (canned vegetables, paper products, etc.) the average pay was $34.41 a week. Because of expanding activity, man-hours increased some five million over May.

Employment figures show that there are now 17,100,000 women working, an increase of three million over last year. In the same period number of men employed declined by 2,700,000, from 39,900,000 to 37,200,000. Nearly two million more women are wanted by industry.

HOME FRONT:

Roads Long, Bloody

Tempering increased optimism on the home front, War Mobilization Director James F. Byrnes told the nation "the roads to Berlin and Tokyo are still long, hard and bloody." We have met less than 7 per cent of the enemies' armed forces in Europe, he said, and in the Pacific, the Japanese not only control most of the productive resources of China, but also the great wealth of Malaya and the Indies.

Looking at home, Byrnes promised prices of actual necessities will be scaled down under the stabilization program. Increased taxes or "forced savings" must be adopted to drain off 20 billion dollars of excess purchasing power, he said, and revisions in the government's procurement program will make possible production of some essential civilian goods, he reported.

POST OFFICE

Postal deficit was set at $3,543,122 for the fiscal year ending June 30, when the post office department closed its books. This loss is the lowest since 1919. Last year the deficiency was $11,825,185.

Revenues totaled $961,059,690, an increase of $101,242,199 over last year. The increase almost equaled the entire income for the year 1900. Expenditures amounted to $964,602,812, an increase of $92,960,135. Salaries of employees accounted for 77 per cent of the costs.

DRAFT:

Deferment Grounds

In an effort to provide industry with necessary labor, the War Manpower commission headed by Paul V. McNutt laid down new regulations for Selective Service, making occupation rather than dependency the basis for deferment.

At the same time, the WMC broadened the list of jobs which are non-deferrible, and placed certain positions requiring high skills at the bottom of the draft rolls.

In effect, the new regulation puts teeth into the order to draft fathers after October 1, since dads holding non-essential jobs will be called ahead of others employed in essential industry. Provision has been made, however, for fathers to switch to essential occupations.

BEER:

Drought for Duration

Beer is scarce, and will probably be scarcer soon, War Production board officials indicate. Demand is running some 50 per cent above production, and areas away from breweries face a real "drought." Communities near a source of supply will fare somewhat better.

Restrictions on material of all kinds are limiting brewers to production of 63 million barrels. Last year they turned out 68 million, and that wasn't enough to satisfy everyone. Malt supplies have been reduced by 7 per cent, and bottles by 35 per cent. Caps are hard to get. Transportation is irregular.

The WPB has ordered that 13 per cent of the beer must be set aside for servicemen. It contains 3.2 per cent alcohol or less, lower than most commercial beers.

Air Hero at 16

Tired of working on the farm, and doing odd jobs around Elmwood, Ill., 14-year-old Clifford K. Wherley took a last look at the old home.

Wherley's craving for action was soon satisfied. As staff sergeant and turret gunner on a Martin bomber, he participated in 21 missions over North Africa. But when his real age was discovered, the army gave him an honorable discharge, and now he must wait his 18th birthday before he can get back into the service.

In the meantime, Wherley will work in the Glenn L. Martin plane factory, helping turn out the bombers in which he rode to such early glory.

RATION BOOKS:

Brown Stamps

Purchase of meat, fats, oils and dairy products will be made through use of brown stamps in ration book No. 3 beginning September 12. However, the last red stamps, X, Y and Z, will remain valid to October 2.

Because the blue stamps, U, V and W for the purchase of processed foods will be good to October 20, ration book No. 2 will not be immediately discarded.

One series of stamps in ration book No. 3 will be used for canned and processed foods when the blue stamps of book No. 2 are exhausted. Book No. 1 will remain valid for shoe rationing. In an effort to ensure black market operators, new gas coupons will be issued. It is planned to distribute an "F" series to check the use of old coupons which might have been turned in for eventual utilization at the full ration rate after the deadline for the 25 per cent cut.

MINERS:

48-Hour Week

Miners working 42 hours a week were permitted to work an additional six hours at time-and-a-half pay under an order issued by the War Labor board and approved by President Roosevelt. With the $9 obtained for the extra six hours, miners will receive $51 for their 48-hour week.

Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, government operator of the mines, had asked the WLB for the 48-hour week to stimulate production of coal and avert a possible fuel shortage. The 48-hour week formed one of John L. Lewis' proposals for a new contract, along with pay for underground travel of $1.25 a day, which the WLB has been considering.

NORWAY:

Underground Stirring

Apparently moving to suppress "underground" activities, lately sparked by hopes of Allied invasion, Nazi authorities have placed Norway under virtual martial law. According to Swedish radio reports, a state of siege has been declared for the entire nation. Imprisonment and executions are being employed to suppress all organizations that might be able to assist the Allies in the event of invasion.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL Lesson

ISRAEL'S SIN AND RESTORATION

LESSON TEXT—Exodus 32:7-10; 34:4-9, 27, 28.
GOLDEN TEXT—The Lord is long-suffering and of great mercy, forgiving iniquity and transgression.—Numbers 14:18.

God is righteous, and cannot look with approval or in forgiveness upon sin until His mercy has been stirred and set free to act by repentance. Then He whose wrath is hotly kindled against man's transgression shows Himself as the tender and gracious God, "keeping loving-kindness for thousands, forgiving iniquity and transgression and sin."

This grace of God is fully revealed in Christ and the redemption which He brought to man, but is prefigured in the experiences of Israel under the law.

I. God's Wrath Kindled (Exod. 32:7-10).

There are those who would have us think of God as a benevolent old gentleman who is easily hoodwinked by clever sinners who can talk fast to cover their iniquity. Even if He does see it, He is supposed to be so tenderhearted that He overlooks their sin.

Such folk had better read these words, "That my wrath may wax hot." The wrath of God is a real and awful affection of the divine nature and it is revealed against man who sins against His holy law.

The special sin of Israel on this occasion was idolatry, which is the setting up of some material symbol to represent the invisible God. Moses had been with God in the mount for 40 days. He had been the Lord's representative in their midst. His presence had evidently been the chief stabilizing influence.

Having their eyes set on a man, or a material object to take His place, they had lost sight of the invisible God. So they proceeded to establish this idol which would provide a center of worship. At first it was evidently intended to remind them of God, but soon it led them out into heathen revelry (Exod. 32:6, 17, 18).

Whatever a man puts between himself and God, even though he may at first intend it to be but a reminder of God, will lead him away from God. Ritual, symbols, theology, scholarship, all good in their places, may become the idols which separate present-day man from God.

II. God's Mercy Invited (Exod. 34:4-9).

Aaron had only a weak "alibi" to offer. The golden calf had practically made itself (see Exod. 32:24). How quick man is to justify himself instead of admitting his guilt. No doubt our excuses sound just as silly as Aaron's in the ears of God.

Moses knew better. The sin was dealt with in drastic fashion. When one deals with a wild ravenous beast, there is one remedy—"shoot to kill." Not only were the leaders of the wickedness slain, but the ground gold of the calf image was put into water, which all Israel drank. Thus were they all marked as sharing the guilt of this idolatry.

There is a lesson here for us. America is far from God. We need to seek His face in repentance. But let us remember that we (that is, Christian men and women) are a part of America. It is our guilt, and we ought to be on our faces before God, pleading for God's mercy upon our land.

Moses was now ready to seek the Lord's mercy for his wayward people. He is the intercessor, the intermediary. God had a man who had compassion and love in his heart, and the Lord heard him. Loving-kindness and tender mercy flowed forth in place of flaming anger.

Note that God has not changed. He is the unchangeable One. His wrath is still hot against man's sin, but man has repented, and moved out of God's wrath into His love and grace. That too is always being shown to His obedient children.

III. God's Covenant Renewed

(Exod. 34:27, 28).

Moses had broken the first tablets of commandments. The people had sinned and were not then ready to listen to any word from Jehovah. But now they were prepared to receive it, and God renewed the covenant as He again gave Moses the law.

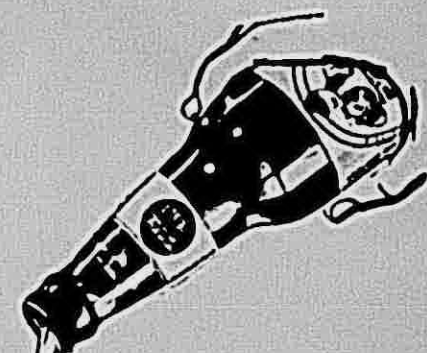

There is no need for despair in the heart of the one who deals with God. The missed opportunity for obedience and blessing may be gone forever, but God is still on the giving hand ready to meet the returning prodigal, ready to give beauty for ashes (Isa. 61:3) and to restore the years that the locust has destroyed (Joel 2:25). Amazing grace!

In the keeping of these commandments, Israel was assured of the blessing of God. As we pointed out last week, the real fulfillment of the law came in Jesus Christ, who did not set aside its requirements, but met them all, for all who believe in His name.
